LARGE CHURCH GAINS FROM CHRISTIAN EXTENSION

The church attendance of Honolulu will be increased by nearly twenty per cent if all those who have signed cards live up to their good resolutions, according to those in charge of the Christian Extension Movement.

Last week at the beginning of the responses to the exhortations were not so many and few cards were turned in, but by Thursday people seemed to grow more and more interested and the last four nights the cards have been coming in at a great rate.

Especially was this true of the service yesterday evening, and at the close of the service several who had not signed cards spoke privately to the Rev. R. E. Smith, who delivered the sermon, and signified their desire to affiliate with some one of the Christian Institutions.

The subject of Mr. Smith's discourse was, "Something to Be Proud of."

"It does not take brains to criticize the church or to point out the inconsistencies of some of the representatives of the church," he said. "Rather a man who does this shows a lack of sense and gray matter. In fact, when these people rant on about something they know nothing about, they show a lack of sense."

"It is the pet argument of the infidel and the atheist to say that the doctrines of Jesus Christ and the Christian religion is incongruous and inconsistent with logical and scientific thought.

"This statement itself is illogical. Many of our greatest scientists, statesmen, generals, sculptors, artists and literary men were proud to be representatives of Jesus Christ.

"To accept Jesus Christ gives manhood new power and helps to clarify the thoughts of man. It enlarges the visions and transforms life into an existence fraught with sweetness and power.

"Wherever you find a true representative of the Gospel of Truth, you find a man who is the champion of Truth and Right."

At the close of the service the people remained seated for a few moments while several "sentence prayers" were offered extemporaneously by some of the laymen present. A special prayer of thanks was made by Mr. Butler for the eighty boys who, at the afternoon service last Sunday, signified their desire to begin an active Christian life.

There will be a meeting at the Empire this afternoon at 4 o'clock for girls only. Mr. Butler will sing and the Rev. A. A. Ebersole will make the address.

At last night's meeting Mr. Butler by request repeated his solo, "The Voice of God's Creation." This evening he will sing Sir Arthur Sullivan's masterpiece, "The Lost Chord."

CHICAGO AS HEADQUARTERS OF WAR ON WHITE SLAVERY

Chicago, today is the center of what is described as a nation wide campaign against white slavery, says the Daily News of that city. At its head are prominent men of some of the largest cities in the country and in this connection the Chicagoans interested outnumber the others three to one. Backed by unlimited capital, it is said, active work against the traffic in girls will begin in five different cities within the next few days. The name of the new organization conducting this fight is the American Vigilance Association and it is an amalgamation of a number of smaller and older organizations engaged in the same work.

List of Officers Made Public.

Here is the list of officers as made public today by Clifford W. Barnes, who is executive chairman:

President—David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University.

Vice-Presidents—The Very Reverend W. T. Sumner of Chicago, Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore and Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University.

Treasurer—Charles L. Hutchinson of Chicago.

Executive secretary and general counsel—Clifford G. Roe of Chicago.

Chairman of executive committee—Clifford W. Barnes of Chicago.

Members of the executive committee—John G. Shedd, Julius Rosenwald, Henry P. Crowell, A. C. Bartlett and Jane Addams, all of Chicago; James B. Reynolds, Miss Grace Dodge and Jerome D. Greene of the Rockefeller Institute, New York; Dr. O. Edward Janney of Baltimore; Wallace Simmons of St. Louis; Charles Bentley of San Francisco; H. J. Dannanbaum of Houston, Tex., and the officers.

All Organizations United.

"The new organization includes the old National Vigilance Association, which has given up its entity and come under our charter, and the American Purity alliance," said Mr. Barnes today. "Our idea has been to eliminate organizations of the same sort which were cumbering the ground, so to speak, and dissipating the energy which ought to be directed along these lines. We felt that the work of our committee of fifteen in Chicago was the right work and we wanted to tie all similar organizations together in one great national organization."

"We have taken over from the old National Vigilance Association a well stocked library and its New York offices, with a well trained staff of educators and instructors. Our main headquarters, however, will be in Chicago, for the work here is extremely large and important. We will send out literature, of course, and will keep at every headquarters a staff of lawyers, detectives and educators for the aid and assistance of any who may seek it."

"Whenever a town or city wants to start a crusade against the white slave traffic the association will supply it with detectives, who will investigate conditions and lawyers who will prepare evidence, according to Mr. Barnes. The evidence then will be turned over to the state or federal authorities and the influence of the association will be used to bring about effective prosecution.

Among the investigators already employed is George Kuehland, recently chief investigator for the Chicago vice commission and prior to that employed by a number of organizations throughout the country engaged in similar activities. Under a department of international co-operation the association will work with the authorities in other countries and will make special efforts to obtain the ratification of treaties making white slavery an extraditable offense.

Within the last few weeks bankers, merchants, philanthropists, educators and other leaders in various lines of activity have met in Chicago and New York in connection with this work, and it is as a result of these meetings that the association has been established. The first inkling of knowledge concerning its existence was given by the presence in Washington, D. C., yesterday of Clifford G. Roe of Chicago; Dr. Panney of Baltimore and James Bronson Reynolds, assistant district attorney of New York.

Asked Congress For Fund.

It is said that the three are representing the association in an effort to get congress to pass an appropriation of $250,000 for the department of justice to be used in the campaign against white slavery. They will obtain in Washington also a federal charter for the association.

Headquarters in Chicago have been established in the Fort Dearborn National Bank building in connection with the committee of fifteen.

BIG WARS COMING TOWNE THINKS

The immediate future of the world promises big wars, in the opinion of Charles A. Towne, former United States senator from Minnesota, who came to New York last night to make the chief address at the annual meeting of the International Peace forum, says a New York dispatch.

"Even our own country can't boast much of its peace proclivities," he said, "considering the way it has treated the United States of Colombia in the Panama matter, Germany and England are in exceedingly sensitive relations just now, and so are Japan and the United States. China, too, may soon fall into a state of absolute anarchy and there are bound to be clashes if it comes to dividing China up among the powers."

"We have done a dangerous thing in building the Panama canal. Germany, France and England are all seeking the Pacific markets. We are shortening the route to the Pacific for these countries by 2500 miles by building this canal. I hope there will be universal peace before the canal is opened. The world is in a solemn situation now."

YUAN'S SON DRAWS TEARS FROM HIS FATHER'S SOLDIERS

PEKIN, March 4.—Yuan Shih Kai's son addressed his father's soldiers today, imploring them not to cause the ruin of the country. The men wept and said they feared that Yuan's going south would cause the disbandment and starvation. They declared that the disorder was meant as a protest against their chief's going away and that they would remain faithful hereafter.

May Raise Hatred of Aliens.
Pekin is quieter today. The parade of the international troops through the main streets of the city causes a difference of opinion among leading foreigners here. Some think it may lead to antiforeign demonstration in the interior, owing to the possible spread of false rumors that Peking has been taken by foreigners. Others think that a show of force was necessary and that it will check any attempt on the legations.

Headless Bodies Lie in Streets.
There were many executions last night by the police, who were in control of the city and stringently maintained martial law. Numerous bodies of men who had been decapitated or shot were seen in the streets this morning. The Lanchow troops, who were ordered to Peking, stopped at Tientsin and engaged in the looting and burning in that city. The situation in Tientsin still is precarious.

Police Remain Faithful.
Cho Ping-chun, minister of the interior, has restored order in Peking through the police, who have been faithful throughout. All the policemen are under bond and have families in Peking. They therefore are interested in maintaining order.

During the worst disorders in this city many of the foreigners distinguished themselves for their unflinching courage in rescuing people outside the legations. Capt. Kipp and Lieut. Randall helped to bring in all the Americans and Count Maximilian Fappenheim defended his friends under the most critical circumstances until relief came.

Aliens Go to Meet Rebels.
Five hundred Chinese soldiers are reported to be approaching Tientsin and are within the internationally prohibited seven mile limit. General Cooper of the British troops has gone out to reconnoiter. He has with him the international guard and a number of machine guns.

Reports from Paoingfu are that all the missionaries there are safe.

Fear for Emperor's Life.

The chief of police says that the Manchu imperial bodyguard is planning to loot the imperial palaces. The heads of the police department are conferring as to how to save the young emperor's life.

Gen. Chang Kuite, the grizzled veteran and suppresser of many riots and rebellions, made a tour of the various camps today, appealing to the soldiers to be faithful. One soldier, who attempted to assassinate him, was headed.

A NEW TRAIL BLAZED IN SUCCESSFUL, LEGITIMATE MINING FINANCE AND DEVELOPMENT.

Today's Opportunity

Apply to the affairs of the QUEEN REGENT MERGER MINES COMPANY the logic of your every day business foresight. You find a project of exceptional value, intrinsic worth and great profit making possibilities. It will commend itself to you as today's opportunity for a safe, conservative investment with rare speculative possibilities. It should convince you, just as it has convinced scores of others, hard-headed business people, who are now stockholders.

The old predatory ways of corporation finance are in disrepute. Corporation "malefactors of great wealth" are being investigated by Congress and legislative commissions. Throughout the world there is a great unrest and distrust of present unsatisfactory financial conditions. The public demands fair play from all corporations and that demand must be met.

The QUEEN REGENT MERGER MINES COMPANY is doing its utmost in its sphere of action to fairly meet progressive demands and has solved the problems of legitimate mining finance. The Company has an intelligent, loyal, co-operative body of stockholders whose aggregate cash pays for systematic development work, which is going steadily forward.

It takes cash to make a mine, backed by ability, good property, and fair dealings and these the Merger Company has and more. Some companies fail through ill-omened promotion, doomed to failure at their inception; some because of greed and cupidity of promoters and brokers; others through lack of experienced management; some are killed by their own contentious stockholders, who expect too much and too soon. But most of the failures are due for the want of cash to prove the property. The man who has bought stock in failing companies and thereafter condemns all mining as fake and failure, is a congenital idiot in need of a guardian.

Mining is the foundation of all business and the dividends paid by mining companies far exceed the dividends paid by all the banks of America.

The Queen Regent Merger Mines Company is an enterprise where one is for all and all for one; where common sense and common honesty applied to the affairs of the company in its organization resulted in reduction of capitalization about 60 per cent, cancelling over 3,000,000 shares of promotion stock, and the elimination of the many varied expenses of separate organization of the former companies and the adoption of LIMITED ASSESSMENTS to assure cash to carry plans into execution; assessments to be paid by everyone from president to water-boy, in a manner and form both easy and equitable, giving cash to carry on the business, cash that is the brain and brawn, the sinew and muscle of all business; cash to make a big mine, big profits and a credit to all. The Merger Company will be known throughout the world as having been financed along new lines, by small buyers of shares, who reaped the big profits.

A group of big mining operators tried to get a bond on one group of claims now owned by the Merger Company, in the sum of $80,000, but the bond was declined. The men behind this deal are working for the future, building on broad lines, and have the co-operation and goodwill of their associates.

The directorate of this Company consist of men of recognized intelligence, integrity and ability.
